Doctor of the Glenn Korff School of Music of the University of Nebraska–Lincoln, Greek pianist Andreas Xenopoulos has concertized throughout France, Italy, Germany, Thailand, USA and numerous major Greek cities. He has taught master classes in Greece and abroad and many students develop their musical skills under his guidance. Since 2002 he has composed music for three theatrical plays, piano solo works and a concerto for piano and orchestra. Major performances include the National Opera Theater in Greece and music festivals such as Piano Plus Festival in Athens, Classic Fest in Xanthi, and the Tage deutsch griechischer Begegnung festival in Germany.

He has attended several master classes by distinguished pianists, including Reinhart Becker (Trossingen Musikhochschule, Germany), Kemal Gekic (University of Miami), Steve Glasser (Ohio State University), Maxim Mogilewsky (Bowling Green State University), Eri Nakagawa (Mahidol University of Thailand), Eduard Zilberkant (Fairbanks University – Alaska), Prisca Benoit (France) and many others. He has received musical awards in performance (1st place at the UNL concerto competition 2012, 1st prize at the Chicago Women's University Club Competition in Piano Performance, 3rd prize at the 14th Bowling Green State University Concerto Competition, 3rd interpretation chamber music award at the International composition and interpretation for chamber music competition in Greece and Special honor for Piano Sufficiency at the Greece Student Music Competition) and conducting (3rd music award in Contemporary Greek Song for mixed children's choir competition). In 2012, Andreas Xenopoulos, got invited to Saint Petersburg – Russia to participate as a juror to the 1st Russian Heritage Piano Competition, organized by the Special Music School of Saint Petersburg Conservatory.

In 2006 Andreas Xenopoulos got involved with arts management and events planning and organization. His administrative projects include organizations and productions of major cultural events in Greece and the United States where he has developed an exchange network for both music students and university professors. Since January 2009 he holds the position of Production Manager for the first piano festival in Athens entitled "Piano Plus Festival". His first professional recording was published in March 2008 under "Hellenic Classical Music Artist" with works by Chopin, Liszt and Mendelssohn. His second digital recording was published in May 2014 and includes transcriptions of Greek rempetika songs and improvisations for piano and voice with the soprano Mariangela Chatzistamatiou.

After receiving his undergraduate degree in piano performance at Ionian University – Corfu, Greece under Professor Lambis Vassiliadis (www.lambisvassiliadis.com), Andreas Xenopoulos joined the Erasmus program and studied at the Trossingen Musikhochschule in Germany with Professor Reinhart Becker. He completed his master's degree at Bowling Green State University, Ohio with Professor Robert Satterlee in 2011, and finally in 2014 he completed his Doctoral studies at the University of Nebraska–Lincoln, Glenn Korff school of music with Professor Dr. Paul Barnes.
